JUDGE FOWLER SENDS FIVE SALOONMEN TO JAIL

OLD AGE PENSION SYSTEM CAMPAIGN OPENED BY EAGLES

W. H. Armstrong, Racine, State Chairman, Addresses Aerie, on Needs for Pension

OLD MEN, ONCE PATRIARCHS NOW SCRAPPED, SPEAKER SAYS

Propose Using Cost of Maintaining Almshouses

THE terrorism of pauperism in old age, the dread of being landed on one's back when the age of productivity and a means to combat this situation were placed fairly and squarely before the Eagles of La Crosse at a dinner meeting given by the local aerie in the chamber of Commerce Friday night and which was addressed by William H. Armstrong of Racine, state chairman of the old age pension commission and member of the national committee.

Eagles Back Plan

The grand aerie of Eagles favors pension for those of 60 or 65 years, said Mr. Armstrong. "The Eagles started propaganda in four states a short time ago to sound the sentiment for the system. Wisconsin was one of the states. In the past four months practically every state is seeing committees organized to carry on the work. In Massachusetts an old age pension bill was introduced in the legislature at the last session. It was defeated by 13 votes. Now the Boston papers are clamoring for the defeat at the next election of the 13 states who voted against the measure."

"Labor made the country what it is today. The wealth of the forest, the mine and the field are made profitable by labor. When the hand has become unsteady and the eye weak from long years of grinding work we are neglected to the scrap heap. Why? Not because of low wages, sickness, and so on. It is up to the community to take care of people when misfortune like that overtakes them."

"Never Paid Saving Wage"

"Many contingencies arise that make people helpless in their old age. Labor has never been paid more than a living wage; it never has been paid a saving wage. At Indiana Harbor, laborers in the steel plants are getting $1.75 a day. Who can live on that wage?"

"The pension system instituted by the state corporations are a sop to employees to keep wages down." Here Mr. Armstrong told the story of a worker who had grown old in the service of the United States Express company and who was receiving a pension. Then the express company was taken over by the American Railway Express company, the old man was left without his pension, no provision having been made to continue the pension system. Six months later

REPUBLICAN TROOPS MASSED ON BORDER BRINGS BRITISH DESTROYER TO LONDONDERRY

Continued Outbreaks Reported from both North and South of Ireland; British Soldier Killed and Companion Wounded in Dublin; Women and Children Among the Victims

LONDONDERRY.—A British destroyer arrived Saturday and anchored opposite the Londonderry military barracks. This was regarded as a sequel to the concentration of republican forces near the Donegal border.

Disorders Continue

LONDON.—Continued outbreaks of disorder in Ireland are reported. It is stated that members of the Irish republican army surrounded Ballinacree, County Longford, and arrested all the protestants in the town, charging them with conspiracy with the Orangemen in the north. The widow Rogers was shot dead by raiders at Castlebligh, County Roscommon.

The Times correspondent at Strabhan says armed men are arresting Ulstermen in County Donegal in reprisal for the arrests of Sinn Feiners throughout Ulster. There is a big contingent of Irish republican army men in Lifford and more are continuously entering the country.

British Soldier Shot

DUBLIN.—By the Associated Press.—A British soldier was shot and killed and another was seriously wounded by two civilians Saturday as the soldiers were leaving the postoffice on the College Green.

The soldiers had entered the postoffice, leaving their automobile at the curb. When they came out they were seized by the two assailants from behind. The soldiers tried to free themselves, whereupon the assailants fired four shots. One of the bullets entered the postoffice and wounded a woman and a child.

It was stated that the soldiers had cashed check at a bank nearby before going to the postoffice and robbery was believed to have been the motive for the attack.

Seventeen Fires Started

BELFAST.—By The Associated Press.—Seventeen fires were started in the campaign of incendiaries waged throughout the city Friday night. Six fire bombs were used in starting the blaze that destroyed the model school on the Falls road. A constable was shot in the leg, while on duty, at a fire this morning.

There were no burials at the city cemetery on Thursday owing to the sniping at Grave Diggers.

The restaurants and theaters are suffering severely from the campaign of terrorism. One restaurant reports a big slump in business after the discovery of a bomb in a telephone booth nearby.

Too Dangerous to Travel

Bishop Markey has cancelled all conferences with his clergy throughout the diocese of Connor and Down owing to perils of traveling.

An encounter lasting several hours took place Friday between Irish republican army men and special constabulary near Newry, on Louth-Armagh border.

Capt. Murphy and four special police were wounded. The republicans' casualties are not known. It is believed they planned to capture the Jervisboro barracks.

A girl of ten was shot dead and another girl, a man and a woman were wounded during an outbreak here Friday night.

Ten Protestants Killed

The Ulster association has sent a message to Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for the colonies, remarking that the Catholic protection committee, in its telegram to the secretary early in the week telling of the number of Catholics murdered, did not refer to the number of Protestants murdered.

Between May 22 and 26 the message says, ten Protestants were killed and several others threatened with death. The premises of 18 protestant firms were set on fire. The telegram of the Catholic protection committee read as follows:

"From the 25th to the 22nd of May 27 Catholics have been murdered. Of these five were women and two children. Forty-five were wounded and hundreds evicted. The position of Catholics is desperate."

MADISON, Wis.—The plea for a new trial of Earlwell Farwell, Vienna, Wis., farmer, convicted of second degree manslaughter in connection with the killing of Phil Hosten was taken under advisement by Judge E. Ray Stevens in Dane county circuit court Saturday. NEWBURGH, N. Y.—By The Associated Press.—Supreme Court Justice Seeger Saturday ordered Walter S. Ward of New Rochelle, central figure in the shooting of Clarence Peters near White Plains, released on $50,000 bail.

The vice president of the Ward Baking company has spent two nights in the White Plains jail after surrendering a week ago with the statement he had shot the ex-navy man in self-defense.

DAY OF DISORDER IN WACO ENDS IN DEATH OF NEGRO

Black is Shot by Father of Woman He is Alleged to Have Attacked

GUARD JAIL TO PREVENT LYNCHING OF FIVE OTHERS

Day is One of Wildest in History of City

WACO, Texas.—Excitement and disorder incident to the killing and burning of Jesse Thomas, 23, negro, here late Friday virtually had ceased Saturday morning, giving the populace opportunity to reflect on the course of one of the wildest days in the city's history.

Beginning early Friday morning when the killing of W. H. Bolton, 25, and a criminal attack upon Mrs. Margaret Hays, 26, by a negro, became known and culminating with the dragging of the supposed guilty negro's charred body through the streets of Waco after he had met death at the hands of the woman's father, it was a day of intense feeling, demonstration and stirring scenes.

Local officers, reinforced by a detachment of rangers, stood guard over the McLennan county jail all night, determined to protect five negro inmates under sentence for murder, from a mob surrounding the structure. The mob had dwindled considerably early Saturday but the officers maintained their guard prepared for any eventuality.

Three negroes are still being held in the jail in connection with the murder and assault. Officers say they believe the negroes are innocent but are afraid to release them until feeling subsides.

County officials say they do not believe any charges will be filed against Sam Harris, who avenged the crime against his daughter when he shot Thomas seven times after the negro had been brought to his home and identified by Mrs. Hays as her assailant.

The identification was made when Thomas was apprehended on the city plaza by a neighbor of Harris who, with the help of some other men, took the negro to the Harris home.

News of Thomas' death soon spread and in a short time the morgue was stormed by a mob and the negro's body dragged to the public square, where it was burned before thousands of shouting spectators. After the corpse had been burned it was dragged through the streets of the negro section while men vied with each other in trying to get part of it for a souvenir.

AMERICAN CHEESE PRODUCERS INVADE SWISS MARKETS

WASHINGTON.—Switzerland, the home of cheese, is being invaded by the American product, according to a report from Consul Murphy at Lucerne, the commerce department announced Saturday.

Constant improvement of American types of Swiss cheese, he said, has had much to do with their introduction into Switzerland and other new markets and the Swiss cheese has had to make room for its foreign rival.

PARIS.—By The Associated Press.—Reports from Berlin that the German government has accepted the allied reparations propositions were qualified by fears in reparations circles that the propositions had been accepted only as a basis for discussion while the determination of the commission is that they constituted the last word.

AGREE ON PLAN FOR LEASING OF PLANT AT MUSCLE SHOALS

No Progress Made at Party Conference on Cloture Bill; Discussion Postponed

PROPOSAL OF COMMITTEE TO BE PRESENTED TO THOSE INTERESTED

McCumber Opposes Injection of Cloture Fight into Tariff Debate

WASHINGTON, D. C.—By The Associated Press.—A proposal for development of the government's nitrate and power projects at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, was finally agreed upon Saturday by the house military committee after more than three months' continuous investigation and study of the offers made by Henry Ford, the Alabama Power company, Frederick Engstrom and Charles L. Parsons.

While the proposal was held in strictest confidence by the committee with regard to its various provisions relating to development of the projects, it was learned that the Gorgas, Alabama, steam plant, was eliminated from the property to be disposed of with Muscle Shoals. The committee plan in other respects follows closely the terms offered by Henry Ford.

The proposal was drafted by the committee and, committee members said, represented a plan which it would submit to all persons and interests for acceptance regardless of whether they already had made an offer for the Muscle Shoals property.

A copy of the committee's draft was given to W. B. Mayo, chief engineer for Mr. Ford, who said he would leave here today for Detroit. The purpose of his visit, it was explained, was to confer with Mr. Ford and ascertain whether he was willing to accept the terms laid down by the committee. After the conference Mr. Mayo said, he would return to give the committee Mr. Ford's answer.

It was understood that the elimination of the Gorgas steam plant from the properties at Muscle Shoals which Mr. Ford included in his proposal, would be the main obstruction in the way of acceptance by Mr. Ford of the committee's plan. Mr. Mayo and other witnesses who represented Mr. Ford before committee during its investigation, declared repeatedly that Mr. Ford held the Gorgas plant to be necessary to his scheme of developing the shoals properties and also repeatedly declared he would not agree to its elimination from his offer.

Copies of the committee proposal also were made available to officials of the Alabama Power company, Frederick Engstrom and Charles Parsons. They were requested to inform the committee early next week whether the proposal was acceptable, after which the committee's report would be submitted to the house and made public.

Changes in Offer

Principal changes in the language of the Ford offer and other amendments made by the committee, it was understood, called for:

1.—Capitalization of the company to be created for operation at Muscle Shoals on a basis of $10,000,000 or more, paid in cash.

2.—The elimination of Gorgas steam plant and transmission line to Nitrate plant No. 3.

3.—Manufacture annually of 40,000 tons of fixed nitrogen which shall be mixed with other necessary ingredients to make a properly balanced commercial fertilizer for sale to the public at a net profit not exceeding eight per cent of the cost of production.

Creation of a supervising board of seven members with power to examine books of the operating company and prevent the selling prices of fertilizers from exceeding the eight per cent profit allowed the company for manufacturing fertilizers.

SHANNON HELD ON $2,000 BAIL FOR SHOOTING AT WIFE

Mrs. Shannon and Cousin Held Under $500 Bail to Insure Appearance as Witnesses

WIFE TELLS OF QUARREL THAT ENDED WITH SHOOTING

Seized Gun Barrel and Diverted shot; Husband Tries to End Life

HARRY Shannon, who is alleged to have shot at his wife and then wounded himself in the right cheek in an effort to take his own life, was held under $2,000 bail by County Judge Brindley in county court Friday afternoon. Shannon was charged with assault with intent to commit murder. He was unable to obtain bail.

District Attorney Reid, at the conclusion of the trial asked that Mrs. Ethel Shannon, the wife, and her cousin, Lyle Smith, who also was a witness to the shooting and who testified in court Friday, be placed under $500 bail to insure their appearance when the case comes to trial in circuit court. Mrs. Shannon and Smith remained in the county jail Friday night and Saturday morning arranged for bail. Kate Bassett went on their bonds.

Quarrel Starts in Room

Mrs. Shannon testified that she was in her room in the Beaumont hotel with her cousin, who is in the city for medical treatment, when Shannon entered and asked to have some divorce papers read to him. Mrs. Shannon having started suit against her husband on April 22, then Shannon is alleged to have said, "I have something else for you" and left the room. When he returned, Mrs. Shannon testified, he left the door of the room open and as Mrs. Shannon's was toward him while she was closing the door, Shannon is declared to have said, "Here it is."

Mrs. Shannon said she wheeled around and saw Shannon holding a revolver in both hands. She grabbed the barrel of the gun, there was a brief rattle and then an explosion, the bullet flattening itself against a radiator. The cousin shoved Shannon out of the room, in a minute or two another shot was fired and Mrs. Shannon fainted.

Policeman on Stand

Policeman Herman Rick testified that he was taken to the floor where the shooting occurred, by night clerk, Robert Jorand, and found Shannon lying on the floor of his room, No. 5, a short distance from that occupied by Mrs. Shannon. He was lying with his right cheek on the revolver and a bullet wound in the flesh.

Rick declared that when he aroused Shannon the latter said "You blue coats are the cause of this." Rick also said that later Shannon amplified this statement at the hospital, saying "that the police were responsible for the shooting because they had not stopped his wife when her case had been reported."

The revolver, which Shannon used, smeared with dried blood, was offered as an exhibit, as were the cartridges taken from Shannon and the pieces of bullet that had been splattered on the radiator.

Cousin Tells Same Story

Lyle Smith told substantially the same story that Mrs. Shannon did regarding the occurrences in the Beaumont room the night of the shooting.

On cross examination by Fred H. Hartwell, attorney for Shannon, it was brought out that Mrs. Shannon had been married and divorced four times before she married Shannon. She is 30 years old. She denied that she had been drinking on the night of the shooting or that she had obtained the revolver that was used from the hotel office. She asserted that she had worked in the city at different times, mostly cleaning house for Kate Bassett, Mrs. Shannon said the first trouble with her husband occurred in Milwaukee. On April 23, the days after she filed her divorce papers, Mrs. Shannon declares her husband threatened her with a razor.

SENTENCES OF 6 MONTHS TO 90 DAYS GIVEN

Hammond Brothers Get Six Months Each; William Hammond Draws Additional Term of 90 Days

JOSEPH HAHN, MATT NEUMANN GIVEN FIVE-MONTH TERM

Ben Medinger Sentenced to 90 Days; Tells Court He is Out of Saloon Business

CHARLES J. and William Hammond, Joseph Hahn, Matt Neumann and Ben Medinger drew county jail sentences Saturday morning from Judge C. A. Fowler in circuit court, following their conviction on charges of manufacturing, possession or sale of intoxicating liquor.

The Hammond brothers were sentenced to six months each on charges of manufacturing and illegal possession of moonshine in a shack at Twenty-first and Park avenue. Charles Hammond denied that he made the moonshine, saying that it must have been made by a William Hauser, to whom Hammond said, he rented the shack last fall.

Ninety Days More for William Hammond Hammond was sentenced to an additional 90 days, to begin at the termination of the six months' sentence. Besides the charges in the first case, William Hammond was charged with secreting a fluid while the Star restaurant on Pearl street was being searched by prohibition deputies. The Hammonds having been engaged in operating the lunchroom and soft drink bar, Hammond denied that he secreted any fluid while the search was being made.

"I want the general public to understand that this moonshine business must stop," said Judge Fowler. "I have known the state agent who was searching the Star restaurant for years. I know him to be truthful and William Hammond's denial of the charge is not worthy of credence."

"Charles Hammond's story also is entirely unfounded. He testified falsely on the stand and Mrs. Charles Hammond and others also committed perjury."

Hahn Gets Five Months Joseph Hahn was the next to face the court. He drew a five months' sentence. Hahn was found guilty of having hootch in his possession, prohibition deputies confiscating a jug of hard liquor which they found in the pantry of the living quarters over the Hahn saloon at Rose and St. Cloud streets. Hahn's defense was that he did not know that the liquor was there and that his brother-in-law and bartender, John (Boots) McGuire, brought the liquor upstairs a short time before the deputies arrived. Mrs. Hahn gave similar testimony.

"Your story of not knowing that the liquor was in your rooms is nonsensical," was Judge Fowler's comment by passing sentence. "Your wife also testified to the same story."

Medinger Draws 90 Days Ben Medinger was sentenced to 90 days. Deputies seized two highballs as they were about to be consumed at the bar in Medinger's saloon, Twelfth and La Crosse streets, and also two glasses that had just been rinsed by Medinger. The glasses, despite the rinsing showed contents of more than a half of one per cent of alcohol.

"You are out of the saloon business now, are you?" asked the court. Medinger said he was. "And you are going to stay out of it?" Medinger said he intended to.

At this point Albert C. Wolfe, who was Medinger's attorney, asked for a parole for Medinger, telling the court that his client had a wife and six little children. The court said arrangements could be made with the sheriff for Medinger to work during the next 90 days, the sheriff to see that the family got the money and that Medinger was to sleep at night in the county jail.

Matt Neumann, Mormon couple saloonkeeper, who told the court and jury that he did not know how two cases of home brew come to be in his saloon, also a bottle of moonshine hidden in an old traveling bag under the bar, drew five months. "Your claim is the flimsiest ever put forth in a court of justice," said the judge. "You mustn't expect anyone to believe your story."

Asks If Schroeder is Blind Judge Fowler also had a few remarks to make regarding the case of Oscar Schroeder of the Eagle hotel. The jury failed to agree in his case and were dismissed by the court, after being out all night. Schroeder was charged with illegal possession of liquor in saloon. Prohibition deputies testified that BERLIN.—When the German empire was formed, the Hohenzollerns could put into the emperor just the kingdom of Prussia over which they ruled. To this was added the kingdoms of Bavaria and Württemberg, the Duchy of Baden and dozens of little principalities all ruled over by kings, dukes and princes. Then the Hohenzollern king became German emperor.

Hugo Stinnes, Germany's multi-millionaire business emperor, started the war with two kingdoms—the kingdom of coal and the kingdom of iron. And to this he has since added various duchies and principalities in commodities over which no others but himself is ruler.

He grasped early in his business career what the nations only fully learned after the great war started—all modern life, all its necessities, all its conveniences, all its comforts are a pyramid of which the base is coal. Place iron on top of the coal and you at once have almost all the needful.

So Stinnes began with coal. He secured control of many of the best coal mines in the Ruhr. Like control of many of the best coal mines his grandfather he continued building of huge and barges to convey his own coal up and down the rivers to his own coal yards.

He became the ruling power in the Rhinish Westphalian coal syndicate, which in its great brick palace at Essen regulates the production, price and market of practically all the coal dug in the Rhineland and Westphalia. And it is done openly. The coal barons don't have to dodge the law to accomplish their purpose.

Ready for Chance

Having fortified himself in the coal business, Stinnes long before the war was in a position for his next strategic move which was a big invasion of the iron and steel trade. He loaded his heavy guns with money and with coal.

There is this to be said for Stinnes—he goes forward not by crushing or wrecking opponents. He is a conqueror. He takes sick businesses and cures them of what ails them. He's a business genius, seeing his great business and makes them sick. He's a bigger. He likes to make two things to go on. It was said he killed him—produce where only one did before. But Stinnes was of tougher.

That gives more work to Germans and metal. Seeing his greatest work cut for the Ruhr and Stinnes, little pieces by the allied victory, he back in the Ruhr a vast blast furnished all Germany by erecting furnace corporation in Luxembourg and greater achievement out of disaster. Another in Bochum, Germany, were hit that his German Luxembourg. When Lorraine went back to France and Luxembourg was freed from German influence, Stinnes' company lost 60 per cent of its raw material—iron ore and coal. For an ordinary business man that would have been a crushing blow.

But Stinnes isn't an ordinary man. He at once began buying up small companies which could give his company some material it needed. But he was after bigger game. Another Ruhr valley family, the Kirdorfs, had founded an organization known as the Gelsenkirchener Mining corporation. It was one of the biggest in Germany. It had over 55,000 workers. The war also hit this corporation hard. Stinnes brought about a combination of his German Luxembourg, the Gelsenkirchener, and the Bochumer Verein. He made himself its master. He christened it the Rhine-Ebner-Traien and it started out with a combined capital of 600 million marks, or just 1,000 times more than the amount with which he began his independent business career.

Controls Fifth of Ruhr

German Luxembourg brought into the combine 14 coal mines, 1,500 coke ovens, 7 iron mines, 5 steel and iron works and 4 other big factories. Gelsenkirchener had 16 coal mines, 9 iron and steel works and a number of other factories. The Bochumer Verein had 4 coal mines and 2 iron and steel works. No man in Germany was in a position like Stinnes. The coal he and his family own and the coal he controls amounts to exactly one-fifth of the Ruhr production.

But he wasn't through with coal. With August Thyssen, another famous Rhineland captain of industry, and the Dresden bank, he bought a controlling interest in the Mulheim Mining corporation which operates four big coal mines, has other seams as yet untapped, and a number of factories. This fuel has become especially precious for German industry since the loss of the Saar and Upper Silesian coal mines. Stinnes secured a huge block of stock in the Ribbeck-schen corporation of Halle which owns 34 lignite mines, 17 factories for the manufacture of coal briquettes, 5 brick factories, 11 electrical power stations and 5 factories for the extraction of mineral oil and paraffin. Lignite is especially valuable in this regard.

Invades Retail Business

Then Stinnes thought of another scheme. His own coal mines supplied fuel to his own steel mills, but he looked around Germany and everywhere he saw consumers of coal. Their money might as well flow into his pockets.

So thought, so done. He controls the United Coal Dealers' corporation of Berlin. He has similar companies in Nuremberg, Koenigsberg, Flensburg, Hamburg, Bremerhaven and numerous other important towns where Stinnes coal mines sold to big and little consumers. Foreign fields tempted him, too. Some of the finest iron ore in the world is found in Sweden. Therefore Stinnes bought some Swedish ore tracts.

One of the greatest foreign companies to him by simply stirring still in the old days of the Austro-Hungarian empire one of the greatest companies in the country was the Austrian Alpine Mining corporation which practically owned an inexhaustible supply of high grade iron ore in the Styrian Alps—a whole mountain of ore in fact. After the peace treaty the great Alpine company found itself in a poverty-stricken little Austria. Its former bases of coal supply were now situated in new and hostile states.

Into Austria

In its need of financial support, a great block of its stock went into the hands of an Italian syndicate of automobile and steel manufacturers. They saw in the plant an excellent chance to get for half the steel it so badly needed. But production failed. The Italians could give the company money and labor, but no coal and coke.

In their trouble they looked to Germany and naturally to Stinnes. The great Hugo was ready to oblige. He could shoot coal and coke right straight across Germany into the Styrian Alps and the great concern could work full speed ahead.

Only—there is almost always an important ally with Stinnes. He told them he would be interested financially in the Alpine company. The Italians saw the point.

Result—Stinnes owns outright two-fifths of the company for which he paid the huge sum of 250 millions of marks.

This caused more political furor both inside and outside Germany than anything Stinnes has ever done. At a time when the allies were demanding that Germany pay huge reparations, it was pointed out there must be lots of money in Germany when Stinnes could spend that much in one transaction. And inside Germany opponents of the government asked why Stinnes didn't pay more taxes. The fact is the money was raised by a Swiss concern in which Stinnes is chief owner.

But the rude socialists still laugh when you tell them a corporation in the little town of Zug could raise all that coin.

In his next story Bronner tells of the ramifications of Stinnes' gigantic electrical combine.

REMOVE HEAVY CLOTHING AND KEEP YOUR CHILD COOL

GIVE THE SKIN A CHANCE TO COOL OFF

By MRS. MAX WEST
Late of the United States Children's Bureau

Do not be afraid to strip the baby down to his band when the hottest days come, especially if he is of the run-about age. These active babies who are exercising all the while they are awake, should wear not more than one layer of clothing, at the most, on the days of great heat. This may be a thin sleeveless band and diaper, or only a waist and drawers. Babies under three months of age and those which are not healthy, cannot be quite so completely undressed, but the amount and weight of their clothes should be much reduced. There is no doubt that many babies suffer seriously from being too heavily dressed.

Al-wool underwear should be changed for light-weight gauze, having a very small amount of wool in the weave. Indeed, some physicians now direct that babies born in the spring and summer shall have all-cotton shirts and bands. In any event, there is no possible reason for keeping even a young baby swathed in several layers of flannel in hot weather. Knitted garments, socks, booties, and caps are entirely out of place.

If the baby's feet are cold, light-weight merino stockings that cover the knees and legs evenly are far better. Older babies can go bare-footed, except that it is best to protect the tender feet from splinters and bumps by barefoot sandals. Headcoverings should be light in weight. For tiny babies, silk caps are best, and for run-about, either sunbonnets or gingham hats when it is necessary to shade their faces from the sun. Rompers have solved the problem for the outer garments for babies and young children, but in the hottest weather they should be of lightweight material, and be made with round neck and short sleeves. White garments have the advantage of looking cooler, and are easier to wash since they may be boiled, but gingham and crepes are highly favored by mothers.

As the day cools or a sudden storm sends the temperature rapidly downward the mother must be ready to protect the baby from sudden chill by extra clothing.

"BURN 'EM UP BARNES"—RIVOLI

A large crowd of movie enthusiasts greeted the presentation of Johnny "Torchy" Hines' offering "Burn 'em up Barnes," at the Rivoli Theater, last night. Johnny, so long identified as "Torchy" in the Torchy comedies, has temporarily laid aside his famous characterization to make this high-speed automobile racing romance and it was the opinion of those present that Johnny can deliver in one picture more laughs than he has possibly be squeezed into a short subject. A notable cast has been provided him and among the best known players may be mentioned Edmund Breese, George Fawcett, Betty Carpenter, J. Barney Sherry and Matthew Betts.

"THE LAW AND THE WOMAN"—MAJESTIC

Those who enjoy a mystery, love and thrill, in good measure, will be well pleased with "The Law and the Woman," which was shown with great success at the Majestic Theater last night. Betty Carpenter is the star and Henryn Stanley was the producer. In the role of Margaret Rolfe, Miss Compson has one of the most effective emotional parts of her screen career, portraying a courageous and faithful wife who saves her husband from the electric chair by inducing the real criminal, a woman, to confess to a murder, she rises to high dramatic rights. The picture was produced with the wealth of detail, handsome settings, and splendid cast that is always found in a Paramount picture. Among those in the supporting cast are William T. Carleton, Casson Ferguson and Clea Ridgely.

TOM MIX—LA CROSSE

Tom Mix is coming to La Crosse Theater today in "Trailin'," based on a story by the celebrated Max Brand. It is a story of twisted and tangled lives, filled with speedy action. The star role represents a distinct departure for Mix, inasmuch as he does not figure as a cowboy, although associated with ranch life and doing some daredevil stunts in pursuit of vengeance in the West.

STRAND TODAY

Devotees of musical comedy—and their number is legion—recall Kathleen Clifford as one of the most charming young stars who ever graced the footlights. This same Miss Clifford, here art more finished and matured, appears together with J. P. McGowan, in "Cold Steel," Strand Theater tonight.

Kathleen Clifford combines not only exquisite beauty and daintiness, but a strong and virile personality that lends itself particularly to the silver screen. "Cold Steel" provides for her just the sort of part she is best equipped to portray that of a girl injured to the hardships of the desert country near the Rio Grande, who lived a life of adventure among soldiers of fortune, cattle men and all the rest of the types that flourish near the border, without—let it be understood—being contaminated.

CASINO TODAY

Washington Irving, first among the American men of letters of his day, completed his masterpiece, "Rip Van Winkle," in 1919. Of all his books, this idyll of the Catskills has gained widest recognition, and the famous toast of the imitable Rip "Here's to your good health and your family's may they all live long and prosper," has been a household saying for more than a century.

Thomas Jefferson, who appears in the picture version of the play, is the fifth generation of his line to follow the stage and the fourth of his family to play "Rip Van Winkle."

NORMALITES WIN AN EASY VICTORY FROM RIVER FALLS

Nohr's Men in Fifth Win Friday, 4 to 0; Schultz Appearing at His Best for Locals

RALLIES IN THIRD AND EIGHTH BEAT VISITORS

Capt. Dean Poles Long Drive to Score First Runs

The La Crosse normal school baseball team kept its season's slate clean with its 1 to 0 victory over River Falls normal here Friday afternoon. The game marked the fifth consecutive victory for the locals in as many games. Schultz, on the mound for La Crosse, was effective at all times, especially with men on bases. He allowed but three scattered hits during the game, and retired 9 men with strikeouts. Johnson, second baseman, was the heavy hitter for La Crosse, hitting in four trips to the plate. Dean got two safeties and Ross one. Carlson's curves remained a puzzle to most of the locals all through the game. He let Nohr's men down with but six hits, but hit two men, and passed two.

Rally in Third
The contest was evenly divided with the exception of the third inning, when the locals drove in three of their four runs. Schultz, first man up in the inning, struck out. Stoneham laid down a fast grounder to the short stop, who muffed it. Johnson singled and Dean slammed a long drive over the center fielder's head for three bases, coming in on an over-throw. Glassnerer flied out. Klannud took on the pitcher and was given his base advancing to second on a passed ball, but the side was retired with Shields out at first.

Score in Eighth
No further scoring was done until the eighth when Dean connected for a single. Glassnerer following him at bat was safe at first by a fielder's choice. Dean being forced out at second. Klannud was safe on Shannon's error. Shields was hit by the pitcher. Glassnerer scoring on a wild pitch. Dean struck out, and Huseh, batting for Ross followed his example.

After two of his team mates had struck out in the ninth, Dean connected for a two bagger, but remained on second. Gordon fanning.

The closest River Falls aggregation came to scoring was in the first inning when Schultz passed two men. The drives of the visitors were all handled for putouts by Nohr's men, and the danger passed. The locals filled the bases in the second inning with one out, but Ross hit into a double play.

The game was a decisive victory for La Crosse considering that the River Falls aggregation had not met defeat this season, having such notable teams as Duwawood, Institute, Minneapolis, St. Mary's College and Luther Seminary. They are considered of championship calibre in their section of the state.

The next game for the locals will be a return engagement with Bangor on June 1.

REAL WOODS TALK
While on a recent trip with Charley Riley, the greatest little old angler that ever brought a musky to gaff, I passed the buck to him in his fashion. "Charley," I said, "what is the worst hook pulled by the city fisherman in the high art of tossing the bait to the eager fishes?" Between turning the fish that was browsing in the pan and feeding the coffee pot to a place of safety when it threatened to boil over, Charley slipped this over the home plate. "Well, Honore, there are a number of things that a fellow will go to make it hard to fill the string." First, nearly everyone tries to get too far; they have an idea that they make about 75 feet of cast off the reel on a cast that will just be a failure, while as a cast of 25 to 30 feet will get the fish that the longer casts, unless the water is very clear and then it's not above 50 feet." And this has been checked up many times watching Charley fish. He never shows his arm out of joint; he lets his wrist and reel do most of the work, and I have seen him get strikes within ten feet of the boat and even catch up alongside as the lure left the water.

"And another thing," said Charley, "is to avoid the snake out of his eyes. Some of the spoons and spinners they bring up into this country are some size. They sure use them in large. I have always found a small spoon, say a No. 2 or 3, about 2 1/2 feet long, 1/2 inch wide, 1/4 inch high, and I can use them up to No. 6 or 8 on a cloudy day, when the water is murky. But on a bright day, when the water is clear, I use the great big chunks of lead they try out on the musky sure look funny to the old boys when they see it. It seems they think the size of the spoon the larger the fish. I've caught 'em up to 40 pounds with a little fellow, and I stick to that old because it gets the fish."

CHICAGO, Ill.—The cream of 1,000 high school and academy athletes from all sections of the country was left to compete in University of Chicago's interscholastic track and field meet. Judging from showings in Friday's elimination tests, predictions were made that several records which have stood for years would not survive Saturday's finals. The meet attracted the greatest list of "prep" stars ever participating in interscholastic styles. Individual stars stood out Friday true to prediction but most prominent among them was the much touted "Bud" Houser, lone representative of Oxnard, Calif., high school, who already is regarded as possessor of new records in the weight throwing events. Houser qualified in the shot-put, javelin and discus throws. In qualifying in the shot-put he hurled the ball forty-four feet standing flat-footed. Jimmy Draper, Georgetown, Texas, athlete who hobbled more than 1,000 miles to compete in the meet, qualified in both events in which he entered, the century dash and the broad jump. Keeble of Austin, Texas, high school, a flyer in the 120-yard hurdles, is counted on to bring points out of this event. Huntington Beach, California, is looked upon as a possible winner in the high school section of the meet but Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Manual Training High, Kansas City, Mo., last year's winners, may upset the dope with Houser and Draper cutting in on points. Last year 22 1/2 points won for the Kansas City athletes. If it will do it again this year, Huntington Beach has a good chance, but if Houser lives up to expectations and takes first in the weight events, Oxnard, California, will be well to the front, even with one man as the sole representative. The meet is divided into two sections, one for high schools and the other for academies.

Meet Former Here Tomorrow and West Salem on Decoration Day

Trempealeau here Sunday afternoon at Copeland park and West Salem on its home diamond on Decoration day is the order of activities of the Montague baseball club for the next three days. The Trempealeau aggregation bunched the Montagues in the first game of the season and the locals are out tomorrow to even up the games in the return contest. Gunderson and Franzini have been announced as the local battery with the remainder of the lineup the same. Tuesday the club journeys to West Salem where Viers will again be given an opportunity on the mound.

LAUNDRY EMPLOYEES PLANNING PICNIC ON FRENCH ISLAND

Employees of the Modern and Ideal Wash laundries, with their families, are planning a picnic to be held at the head of French Island on Sunday, June 4. A program for the day has been arranged, including a baseball game both in the morning and afternoon, races and various novelty events for which prizes will be offered. They plan on making it an all-day affair.

WHEN YOU SCORE A BALL GAME REMEMBER—

If a runner attempts to steal a base and the catcher throw wildly in an effort to catch the runner, it shall not be charged as an error, unless the base runner advance an extra base because of the wild throw. Teeth of sharks are in great demand for the manufacture of necklaces to supply a new fad.

HOSE BEAT BROWNS IN MOUND DUEL, 2-1

Recruit Schupp Has Slight Edge on Bayne; Fans Williams Twice

FOSTER'S TRIPLE, RUEL'S SINGLE BEATS ATHLETICS

Indians Bunch Blows to Tame Tigers, 8 to 3

CHICAGO.—Chicago defeated St. Louis, 2 to 1 on Friday in a pitchers' duel between Schupp and Bayne. Schupp, although wild, pitched well in the pinches, striking out the hard hitting Williams twice with runners on third base, and might have registered a shutout if Speely had not tossed the ball wild to McClellan in the sixth inning which enabled Sisler to score. Schupp drove in the winning run with a single in the seventh. The locals' first run was the result of singles by Hooper and Collins, with Mulligan's sacrifice in between. Score:
St. Louis.....000 001 000—1
Chicago.....100 000 100—2
Batteries: Schupp and Schals.

Red Sox, 7; Jacks, 6
BOSTON.—Foster's triple to right center off Bryan Harris' pitched ball in the tenth inning, followed by Ruel's single over shortstop on the next pitch, gave Boston a 7 to 6 victory over Philadelphia on Friday. The hitting of Pratt and Menckey was timely. Walker tied the score in the seventh by knocking a homer over the clock in left center. Score:
Philadelphia.....005 000 1000—6
Boston.....210 003 000—7
Batteries: Rommel, Moore, Sullivan, Quinn and Ruel.

Indians, 8; Tigers, 3
DETROIT.—Cleveland bunched hits off Stoner and Olsen and defeated Detroit here on Friday, 8 to 3. Stephen, who scored on Gardner at third for the Indians, drove a home run over the left field fence in the first inning with two men on base. Score:
Cleveland.....312 020 000—8
Detroit.....000 010 011—3
Batteries: Morton and O'Neil; Stoner, Olsen, Cole and Bassler, Woodall.

Griffs, 3; Yanks, 1
WASHINGTON, D. C.—Zachary outpitched Shaway by a wide margin on Friday and Washington, defeated the Ruthless New York club, 3 to 1. Goslin's single with the bases filled in the first inning gave the locals two runs and Shaway forced in another in the fifth when he yielded two hits and issued three bases on balls. New York's only run was due to an error by Goslin. Sensational holding by Peskinbaugh was a feature. Score:
Washington.....200 010 005—3
New York.....000 000 000—1
Batteries: Shaway and Schang; Zachary and Charity.

MANITOBA CREW ROWS BADGERS IN FIRST INTERNATIONAL MEET EVER HELD ON LAKE MENDOTA

MADISON, Wis.—The University of Manitoba crew rows Wisconsin here Saturday in the first international meet ever held on Lake Mendota. Both crews after their workout yesterday were reported in top condition for the contest. While the race today is the first of the year for the Wisconsin varsity eight the men are largely veterans from their last season. The Canadians are handicapped by a lake course, because accustomed to rowing on a river, and have a further disadvantage of rowing in a Badger shell. Weather conditions permitting, the crews will start their race at 11:30 a. m. and otherwise at 6 o'clock this evening. The junior Wisconsin crew races the St. John's Military academy at 1 o'clock. The Badger-Manitoba lineup follows:

Wisconsin: Toeper, Puestow, Jones, Okerston, Schnetz, Crozier, Johnson, Brehn, stroke; Hanley, coxswain.
Manitoba: Creighton, R. Carer, Adamson, E. Carer, Watt, Spry, Galt, Phinney, stroke; Hillhouse, coxswain.

Nelsons To Caledonia In Return Game

The Nelson ball club meets Caledonia in a return game on the latter's field Sunday afternoon. Fans saw Caledonia defeated here last Sunday in the most spectacular game this season, 2 to 0. To win from Caledonia again tomorrow would stand the Nelsons to remain undefeated in games this year, having defeated the Poorless Chains in home and home games. Schultz and Jager will again be the opposing mound men. While they anticipate winning the local club regards the Caledonia club as one of the stiffest aggregations in this section.
